Italian-Dutch founder based in Turin, active in the Bitcoin and freedom technology ecosystem. His background spans product design and digital marketing, blending creative instinct with technical fluency. Brings expertise in go-to-market, product strategy, and business development for early-stage technology products.

Co-founded and led a full-service digital marketing agency for four years, focusing on adopting emerging technologies such as blockchain and AI. Then co-founded three ventures between Bitcoin and AI: Nuova Bottega, a Bitcoin-based atelier; Aigens, a privacy-oriented AI chatbot; and Kosuke, a vibe coding platform. Deeply involved in BitPolito, the Politecnico di Torino student team, contributing to making it one of the most recognized Bitcoin educational projects in Italy. Now serves as president of Bitcoin Torino, a non-profit aiming to foster the Bitcoin ecosystem in the city.

Spoken at Bitcoin international conferences such as BTC Prague, Plan B Forum Lugano, and Plan B Forum El Salvador, covering topics including marketing in technical environments, business models on Bitcoin, and financial education.

At KaleidoSwap, responsible for strategy, growth, and design. Bridges the gap between a highly technical product and the builder, partner, and investor audiences it needs to reach. In this early phase, can cover every non-engineering function with deep domain knowledge and AI-native execution.
